Hint of Framed Evidence At Trial Of Hauptmann

Defence Witness Insists Three Incriminating Nail Holes in Lindbergh Kidnap Ladder Were Not There When He Examined It Two Weeks After Kidnapping

Veracity of State Witness Attacked

Associated Press
Hartford, N.J., Feb. 7.—Bruno Hauptmann's defence to-day pursued a hint of "framed evidence" in the face of photographs and government reports, that three incriminating nail holes in the Lindbergh kidnap ladder were not in existence when he examined it.

This witness was Dr. E. M. Hudson, a New York physician and amateur fingerprint man. He clung to his testimony that the famed "rail" was a part of the kidnap ladder which the state charges came from Hauptmann's attic and fitted into a hole in the floor of the Lindbergh home on March 1, 1932, twelve days after Baby Charles A. Lindbergh was kidnapped and slain.

The rail, in evidence, has four nail holes which state experts and police said fitted with nail holes in the sole of Hauptmann's shoe.

Another alibi witness also testified for Hauptmann. Walter Manley, a Bronx painter, said Hauptmann was in a bakery in the Bronx on the evening of March 1, 1932, when the Lindbergh baby was stolen more than sixty miles away at Roswell, N.J.

VERACITY QUESTIONED

The defence also sought to weaken the identification of Hauptmann as a man seen lurking near the Lindbergh home before the crime by calling William Whitehead to say the reputation of his relative Millard Whitehead for veracity was "not good."

The two men do not spell their names the same way.

Whitehead testified for the state, placing Hauptmann near the crime scene.

William Diehl, another resident of the Soudan Hills, followed. As to Whitehead's reputation for veracity, he said:

"I am just a good."

George E. Lusk also said "not good" as to Whitehead's veracity.

Four Days' Rain Is 26.41 Inches

Jordan River Experiences Unusual Downpour; Inch of Rain an Hour at One Period; Tremendous Rise at Spillway

The weatherman said it rained very hard in Victoria to cause the recent floods. Even Vancouver, which takes to rain as a matter of course, was boasting about how many million gallons fell.

But both Victoria and Vancouver are in the background compared to Jordan River, according to records which E. H. Morley, engineer of the B.C. Electric Railway Company, has produced.

Mr. Morley says that in the four days from January 21 to 24 inclusive, the rainfall totaled 26.41 inches at Jordan River, or an average of 6 1/2 inches a day.

In the two hours between 6 and 8 o'clock on the night of January 21, 2 1/2 inches fell. He shows just what this abnormal rainfall meant to the company's power system. Mr. Morley explained that the big spillway on the dam, 555 feet long, was open about two inches of water at 4:30 o'clock on the morning of January 21. Three hours and forty minutes later the flow over the spillway was 6.4 inches.

All reports to the flood watchmen not only had to be carried out during this unprecedented rainfall, but at the same time there were five feet of snow on the ground, and the little railway had been washed out when the flood went.

It was very largely due to the exceptional work of the men under these very great difficulties, that the company was able to give Victoria an uninterrupted service in light, power and street railways.

LONGEST NEW PIPELINE INAUGURATED

King Ghost of Iraq recently inaugurated the Iraq pipeline at Kirkuk, one of the most gigantic engineering undertakings ever attempted, by turning a handle to start the oil trickling on its 600-mile journey across the desert to the Mediterranean. It was constructed at the enormous cost of $20,000,000 by the international concern comprising British, French, Dutch and United States interests. The picture shows King Ghazi as he inspected the gate plant while the British Ambassador walked behind him along with other dignitaries.

Five-day Week Urged By Labor

PREMIER ON AIR TO-NIGHT

Expected to Urge Constitutional and Economic Reforms in Radio Address

Going on the air from his office this evening over a province-wide radio network, Premier Pattullo is expected to urge an overhaul of Canada's ship of state and direct government action to provide employment with capital expenditure.

The Premier's address is primarily to review events for the coming session of the Legislature, but he is expected to analyze the situation and deal also with some of the more important things he thinks should be done both provincially and federally.

Of most vital concern to the province right now is a "new deal" under the British North America Act. The Premier is expected to discuss in some detail the way in which limitations imposed on the province under this measure make it difficult for the province to tackle real recovery methods on its own.

The Premier, it is anticipated, will also deal with the economic position of British Columbia within Canada as revealed in the trade survey recently completed by the Economic Council. This showed the tribute paid by this province to the east not only because of national tariff policy but also in a direct trading sense.

The Premier's speech will start at 7:30 o'clock, lasting half an hour, and will go over all Canadian Radio Commission stations in the province and CFCF in Victoria.

Nanaimo Head Office For Five Year Plan

Logical Centre For Tourist Drive, T. H. Eslick Tells Up-Island Audience

Nanaimo has been selected as the key city for the Vancouver Island Tourist Trade Development Association's Five Year Plan, The Nanaimo Free Press announces in a front-page story following the visit of the four Victoria speakers touring the island.

T. H. Eslick, secretary of the association; Harold Huxford, president of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau; R. A. McKelvie and John Wood visited the up-island city Monday and spoke on the plan which was launched in Victoria several months ago.

The plan contained in the headline "Nanaimo to be Key City in Great Drive for Tourists" is presently based on the speech of Mr. Eslick in which he is reported as saying: "Nanaimo is the logical place for the headquarters of the association, as it is in the centre of the island. A start was made in Victoria for the simple reason that every plan must have a beginning."

After stating that he thought the audience would agree that the drive was the first serious attempt at unification, Mr. Eslick proceeded:

"Between ourselves, we should strive for compromise and tolerance. We should understand that the island provides one-third of the taxes of the province and gets one-tenth of the benefits."

"Speaking as a community you will get nowhere. Speaking as a whole you speak with force, and will get results."

"Our plan is a Five Year Plan. It will extend from 1935 to 1940. This city is the logical place for the headquarters of the association."

"We have started with Victoria for the simple reason that every plan must have a beginning. We have created a machine. Its committees are as follows: Financial and legal; city planning and beautification; parks and gardens; cleanup, demolition; beaching; sailing; riding and trails; transportation; programmes; music; sports; publicity; welcome; fishing and courtesy. We would suggest that you form a committee here for each one corresponding in Victoria."

Interest Cut and Relief Pleas To Be Sent Through Provincial Governments

PROSECUTION CONSIDERED

Legal Action Against Striking Cadboro Bay Parents Under Advisement

Prosecution of any parents in the Cadboro Bay district who have failed during the last three days to send their children to either the Cedar Hill School or the improvised institution in the Children's Aid Hall, where they have been kept under supervision, was being considered to-day by Chief Allan Rankin, trust officer, on the advice of the municipal school board authorities and solicitors.

In the meantime the trustees, in collaboration with their legal advisers, were inquiring into the status of the newly-organized classes in Cadboro Bay, through the Department of Education, with a view to allowing the classes to proceed if the standards are satisfactory to the department under the requirements of the School Act.

The situation which has arisen is believed to be unique in the history of the province, as forty-two children have been kept from the recognized municipal school at Cedar Hill in defiance of the trustees' refusal to provide transportation for all of them.

MUST ATTEND SCHOOL

Prosecution of any who have not sent their children to the school or the Children's Aid Hall would be carried out under the trustees' clause of the School Act, it was stated. This provides that all children, between the ages of seven and fifteen years, must attend school or attend an institution which, in the opinion of a justice or tribunal before whom the prosecution is heard, provides an education equal to that of a school.

To meet this the Cadboro Bay trustees this morning had on hand a qualified teacher, who, it was stated, had volunteered her services. This, they felt, qualified the institution as a private school.

If the school continues as a private institution, it will become incumbent upon residents of the district to pay for its operation and the trustees, unless the latter are willing to donate their services.

If the department should fail to recognize the status of the improvised school, parents of all children who have not attended Cedar Hill School during the last four days, will be liable to prosecution unless satisfactory excuses can be given for their absence before a court.

Under the School Act the penalty for conviction of truancy is $10 a pupil a day, each separate day of the pupil's absence being recognized as a separate offence.

The youngest singer to make her operatic debut on this continent since Marion Talley, then nineteen, scored a great success in 1910, Mary Moore, whose twenty-one-year-old voice was heard in the Metropolitan Opera Company, which put on "Eugene Onegin" in New York yesterday evening. She is a Canadian.

New Plan in Which Mayors of All Canadian Cities to Join Is Announced Following Ruling Made By Premier Bennett; No Direct City Appeals to Federal Ministry

ORGANIZATION STEPS TAKEN

Canadian Press
Calgary, Feb. 7.—Mayors of all Canadian cities will make representations to the Dominion Government through their respective provincial governments on problems of interest rate reductions and relief costs.

This new plan of representation to the federal authorities was announced here to-day by Mayor Andrew Davison of Calgary, who last week was appointed permanent chairman of the Western Canada Mayors' Conference. The plan of the cities through the provincial authorities follows a ruling of Prime Minister R. B. Bennett. Under the terms of the British North America Act, it was stated, the federal government could not deal with the cities direct.

ANSWER TO HOUSE

Mayor Camille Houde of Montreal, it was stated here, had been given this ruling by the Prime Minister last week when he headed a delegation of Quebec mayors to the capital. Plans are under way for holding a conference of Canadian mayors in eastern Canada, possibly Ottawa, and from that meeting recommendations to the Dominion Government will be submitted through provincial representatives.

Mayor Houde is completing an organization of eastern Canadian mayors, and with Mayor Davison will seek the co-operation of the provinces in dealing with the Dominion.

NO APPEAL IN MEISNER CASE

London, Ont., Feb. 7.—Claiming he was double-crossed by his own witness, David Meisner, pale former Cincinnati bookmaker, set in a gloomy mood in the Middlesex county jail to-day as he pondered the fifteen-year prison sentence imposed on him yesterday for the kidnapping of John R. Latham, wealthy London brewer, according to witness testimony, he maintains his innocence.

There seems little likelihood of appeal, being hunched on Meisner's behalf.

NEW BRITISH M.P. IS LABOR

Wavertree, Liverpool, Seat Won By J. J. Cleary in By-election

Canadian Press
Liverpool, Eng., Feb. 7.—The Labor Party was jubilant to-day over the recapture of the Wavertree seat from the Conservatives in yesterday's by-election—the ninth Labor recovery since the landslide of 1931.

Conservatives claimed the loss was due solely to the split vote caused by the candidacy of Randolph Churchill, Independent Conservative, but the result was causing much pondering in Conservative Party ranks since Churchill, hotly opposing the government's programme of further self-improvement for India, was given more than 10,000 votes.

Young Churchill is a son of Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill.

The result was: J. J. Cleary, Labor, 15,811; James Platt, Conservative, 13,771; Randolph Churchill, Independent Conservative, 10,575; Arthur Morris, Liberal, 4,398.

ELECTION IN 1931

The by-election was necessitated by elevation to the peerage of Ronald Wall-Cain, who retained Wavertree for the Conservatives in 1931 by 25,779 in a straight fight with a Labor candidate.

From the Conservative Party standpoint, the result is not so discouraging.

NEW ANGLE IN SLOT GAMES

Wavertree, Liverpool, Seat Won By J. J. Cleary in By-election

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Feb. 7.—Entire question of the legality of marble games and pin boards, recently banned by the Vancouver City Council as the request of Mayor G. O. McGeer, may be reopened following a ruling of Magistrate Mackenzie Matheson to-day.

W. W. McLeod, storekeeper, was dismissed on a charge of keeping a gaming house, the charge arising out of his alleged operation of a marble game in which players endeavored to place marbles in numbered slots, awards being given for high scores.

"The evidence in this case is very meagre," the magistrate declared in giving his decision. "There is no doubt that in the game the element of chance enters, but that applies to everything, hockey or billiards."

"However, there is also the element of skill and I do not see why a person should not, with sufficient practice, become capable of putting the ball in any desired slot."

"I want it understood this only applies to this type of machine, the only one of its kind I have seen."

PRISONERS IN PARIS FREED

Associated Press
Paris, Feb. 7.—With the anniversary "Bloody Tuesday" safely past, police to-day released all but fifty-six of the 1,361 Communists they arrested yesterday.

Of the fifty-six still held, thirty-three are foreigners. They will be expelled from France. The rest will be prosecuted on charges of carrying forbidden weapons.

Citizens who were burying their dead or bandaging their own wounds this time last year prepared to-day to forget the sad day for another twelve months.

A check of yesterday's casualties revealed one civilian and five policemen were nursing slight injuries, compared with 241 nineteen killed and more than 1,500 wounded in last year's street battles.

INDIA POLICY DECLARATION

British Government's Pronouncement of Dominion Status Approved

Canadian Press
London, Feb. 7.—The definite government declaration that full dominion status is the ultimate goal for India—made in the House of Commons yesterday by Sir Samuel Hoare, Secretary of State for India—was welcomed to-day by the British press, with the exception of those newspapers supporting the minority Conservative faction opposed to the reforms.

The London Times said the continuity of British purposes for India was not changed. "Not even the most suspicious will find fault with Sir Samuel's declaration," it added.

The London News-Chronicle, Liberal, said the minister's speech would finally ally Indian apprehensions over the omission from the present bill of the preamble to the 1919 Reform Act, in which dominion status was envisaged.

The London Morning Post countered: "There is nothing about dominion status in the preamble to the 1919 act—and in such a document nothing is implied which is not stated."

CANADA'S HISTORY

In the House yesterday Sir Samuel, who was opening debate on second reading of the bill, said:

"I call to your attention the state of Canada just about a century ago. Lord Durham was sent to Canada. He had every temptation to select a policy of conquest and repression, but he said the only solution of the state of affairs was to make the highest law April."

M.P. SAVED BY POLICE ACTION

At Lincoln, Eng., Constables Rescue W. S. Liddall From Jobless Crowd

Associated Press
Sheffield, Eng., Feb. 7.—Police at Lincoln to-day rescued W. S. Liddall, M.P., from an attack by unemployed while he was addressing a meeting regarding operations of the unemployed soldiers' fund.

The number of Parliament was constantly interrupted in his talk and at last men and women tried to rush the platform. Police intervened and escorted the speaker outwards.

After his departure the meeting passed a resolution to demand the release of the twenty-two men and one woman arrested in connection with yesterday's disturbances in Sheffield.

Three under arrest were charged in police court to-day with assaulting and obstructing police as a result of their storming the city hall and injuring nine policemen in the noise yesterday. All except their leader, Thomas Stuart Price, were remanded on bail until February 12. Price was remanded in custody for ten days.

Bureau Estimates Expenditures on Questionnaire Replies; Survey Reveals Interesting Facts

Tourists cars visiting Victoria during the summer average three passengers to a car and averaged five and a half days' stay on Vancouver Island with expenditures averaging $95.28, the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau reports.

The statement of the bureau is based on a compilation of 1,621 replies to questionnaires sent out by the bureau to automobile parties that visited Victoria during the summer. The replies are considered representative of the thousands of others which visited the island during the summer.

"The information obtained in the questionnaires," says the bureau, "is of exceptional value as it gives the reaction of our visitors to Victoria as a summer resort. Seven hundred and eighty-two of the visitors who answered the questionnaires were from California, 416 from Washington, 168 from Oregon and thirty-five from other states and from Mexico, Panama, Mexico and Hawaii."

The questionnaires show that 1,621 car owners spent $190,200, or an average of $117.34 each.

J. FRED HUME OF NELSON DIES

Was Provincial Secretary Thirty-seven Years Ago

Nelson, B.C., Feb. 7.—J. Fred Hume, seventy-five, former Provincial Secretary and Minister of Mines of British Columbia, died here yesterday evening after a lengthy illness.

Born in Jacksonburg, N.B., Mr. Hume lived at Courville, Man., and Winnipeg before the Canadian Pacific Railway was constructed in the west. Later he went to Revelstoke, B.C., where he was a pioneer settler and worked the first log cabin.

He arrived in the Provincial Legislature from 1894 to 1900, becoming Provincial Secretary and Minister of Mines.

He is survived by the widow, two daughters, Mrs. C. F. Hume of Vancouver, and Mrs. Hume of Seattle, and three sons, Mr. Hume of Vancouver, Mr. Hume of Seattle, and Mr. Hume of Seattle.

There are three grandchildren. A brother, Horace, resides in Vancouver, and three sons surviving, Mr. Hume of Vancouver, Mr. Hume of Seattle, and Mr. Hume of Seattle.

Age of 40 to 50; 700 spent $50.70 in total stores, or an average of $42.21. On an average, each tourist car spends $96.28 on a trip, or an expenditure for each person each day of $1.11. Visitors numbered three to a car and averaged five and one-quarter days' stay in Vancouver.

From the 111 visitors, who have up to date replied to the questionnaire, 634 stopped in hotels, 673 stayed in camps or rented cottages, 129 parties fished within the island.

The state, in cross-examination of the three Scotland men, brought out that Whitehead had been in jail, that Leach had trouble with Whitehead, and that Dietrich had signed a statement to the effect that he had not discussed Whitehead's reputation for veracity. Dietrich refused to read the statement.

WANT BETTER ROADS

The answers to the questionnaire show that practically without exception all our visitors thoroughly enjoyed their visit to Victoria and Vancouver Island generally. Some have answered the special question as to whether they found anything or any condition that they thought could be improved from the tourist point of view. In reply to this question fifty-eight visitors commented on the excellent roads, and many made suggestions toward the improvement of some of the roads, while 51 urged the vital necessity of improving the highways. Traffic regulations and directional signs are criticized by 101; twenty-nine were annoyed at having to pay exchange on U.S. money; fifty-six were not pleased with the restaurants; seventy-one stated there was need for more and better cabin camps, and 104 registered minor complaints, the majority peculiar to the individuals visiting them.

AGAINST BILLBOARDS

"During recent years there has been much money not only on the continent, but also in Europe, with regard to roadside advertising, and as a result most provinces and countries have passed legislation either eliminating or governing the same. The questionnaire sent out by the bureau show that the weight of public opinion is opposed to this form of publicity. Answering the question, 'Are you in favor of billboards?' 381 visitors answered 'yes' while 618 were opposed, stating that billboard advertising ruins scenery and spoils spectacular motor drives and views.

By means of these questionnaires the bureau has received no fewer than 1,800 names and addresses of people who the bureau state will be invaluable in receiving descriptive literature of Victoria, and who will most probably come to Victoria for their holidays in the near future. The bureau also received forty-three letters simplifying the answers to some of the questions given in the questionnaire."

Appreciation of the government's income tax policy of giving exemptions of $500 and $1,500 was expressed and the suggestion made that the exemption be raised to $2,000 if possible.

Changes in the Workmen's Compensation scheme which would make a man a minor, afterwards of $12.50 a year and make the act cover casual workers were urged.

Other recommendations were on following matters: placing administration of mother's pensions under the Workmen's Compensation Board, to bring municipal workers under the Industrial Disputes Act, abolition of the night work in bakeries; prison penalty for hit-and-run drivers.

In conclusion the brief suggested that "the government act to supply with all the money they require on the same basis as it is supplied to private business institutions."

The government expressed a sympathetic attitude. Senator Pattullo pointed out that some of the three recommendations would be worked out practically yet.

Bill Being Drafted at Ottawa to Bring Telephone and Telegraph Rates and Radio Under Same Control as Railways

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Feb. 7.—Transmission of railway and canal, civil aviation, wireless and telephone services and the Canadian Radio Commission under one minister is contemplated in legislation to be introduced in the House of Commons.

The bill will be presented by Mr. T. A. Crerar, minister of railways, and will be presented by Mr. T. A. Crerar, minister of railways, and will be presented by Mr. T. A. Crerar, minister of railways.

RADIO CONTROL

Justification for the Canadian Radio Commission will be taken away from the Department of Railways, but it is in the hands of the House of Commons that the department will not be disturbed.

Other items of Premier Bennett's reform program are approaching completion. The bill will start shortly. Duties of the council will be to collect and prepare economic data and act in an advisory capacity to the government. It will probably come under control of the office of the Minister of External Affairs and President of the Privy Council.

Maritimes Want Wider Fish Market

Beam Trawlers and Other Questions Debated By House of Commons

The whole issue between the parents and the trustees arose over the question of adequate transportation for the Cadboro Bay children to Cedar Hill School. At a meeting last week the board ruled that all pupils residing west of Hobbs Road would not be eligible for transportation by the school bus to carry this out, but the former bus route was eliminated. Formerly the route of the bus from the city via Shelbourne Street, Bay Road, Finlayson Road, Cadboro Bay Road, returning to Cedar Hill School via Cadboro Bay Road, Arbutus Road, Finlayson Road and Bay Road.

QUESTION OF PRICES

One of the highlights of the debate was the assertion of Mr. Macdonnell that the Maritime Fish Commission, which controls the fish trade, had a monopoly of the fishing industry. The company, he said, dictated prices to the fisherman, and where to sell and sometimes made it impossible for them to sell.

Under the action there were only ten pupils—those who caught the bus at the Cadboro Bay terminus—were eligible for transportation. These were 14 miles away from the school. Previously, in the past, the board had been willing to allow the pupils living near the school to ride the bus to the school on their way to school.

Beam Trawlers and Other Questions Debated By House of Commons

The whole issue between the parents and the trustees arose over the question of adequate transportation for the Cadboro Bay children to Cedar Hill School. At a meeting last week the board ruled that all pupils residing west of Hobbs Road would not be eligible for transportation by the school bus to carry this out, but the former bus route was eliminated. Formerly the route of the bus from the city via Shelbourne Street, Bay Road, Finlayson Road, Cadboro Bay Road, returning to Cedar Hill School via Cadboro Bay Road, Arbutus Road, Finlayson Road and Bay Road.

QUESTION OF PRICES

One of the highlights of the debate was the assertion of Mr. Macdonnell that the Maritime Fish Commission, which controls the fish trade, had a monopoly of the fishing industry. The company, he said, dictated prices to the fisherman, and where to sell and sometimes made it impossible for them to sell.

Under the action there were only ten pupils—those who caught the bus at the Cadboro Bay terminus—were eligible for transportation. These were 14 miles away from the school. Previously, in the past, the board had been willing to allow the pupils living near the school to ride the bus to the school on their way to school.

NO MORE PILES

Doctor's Prescription Does the Work

For Pile sufferers know that the cause of Piles is in the lower bowel. This is the scientific truth about Piles—the real reason why salves and suppositories so often may give lasting relief and why cutting surgery leaves its cutting scars which may create a recurrence.

Your itching, burning or protruding Piles will only go when you actually remove the cause. For this an internal medicine should be used, HEM-RHOD, the prescription of Dr. J. A. Leonard, sold by great drug stores everywhere, because it stimulates the circulation, and acts to relieve congestion.

Don't let your Piles alone but use HEM-RHOD, the internal medicine, to try this internal remedy when HEM-RHOD is used by Dr. Leonard, sold by great drug stores everywhere, because it stimulates the circulation, and acts to relieve congestion.

MYSTERIES OF SOLAR SYSTEM

H. B. Brydon Speaks at Opening Meeting of Astronomical Society

"There is need for a second Newton to bind together our knowledge of the stars," said H. B. Brydon, president of the Victoria branch of the Royal Astronomical Society, speaking on "Some Unsolved Problems in Astronomy" at the society's first meeting of the year at the Y.W.C.A. yesterday evening.

With the tremendous advances in the knowledge of astronomy which had taken place since the beginning of the century through the new apparatus devised since that time, it seemed that gaps had appeared between the directions in which that knowledge had pushed forward.

SOLAR SYSTEM PROBLEMS
Even in the solar system, said Mr. Brydon, knowledge of which seemed fairly complete, there were still many unsolved mysteries. The cycles of sun-spots had been traced, and their strange behavior was known, as was their effect on the magnetism of the earth, and on magnetic mechanisms of human construction, such as the telegraph, but the question of "why" still remained.

In the same way the origin of the whole solar system was a problem for which no full explanation had ever been found. The theory of two stars passing close and attracting streams of incandescent gas from each other seemed plausible, but the great difficulty arose of the explanation of the difference in distance and in density of the inner and outer groups of planets.

The origin of the asteroids, where mathematics seemed to point to the existence at one time of another planet, was also problematical. The theory of the explosion of a star had at first been rejected, but the discovery of a Japanese astronomer seemed to point to this as the most plausible.

Even the beginnings of the moon, the earth's near neighbor, was uncertain. It might be a chip off the earth, according to Darwin's theory, or it might be the twin of Mercury. Nor were the centers of the moon fully explained.

Outside the solar system Mr. Brydon referred to the problem of the variable stars, and of the new stars, one of which latter had, in December of last year, increased in brightness 50,000 times in one week. So great was the distance of this star that the moment the news of an event in space which happened 1,500 years ago, ASTROPHYSICAL

"The complete lack of knowledge of the stars in the mind of the ordinary man is one of the features of our modern civilization," said Mr. Brydon. He pointed out the aesthetic as well as the scientific appeal of astronomy.

Throughout his lecture Mr. Brydon stressed the value of work of amateurs in astronomy, and the international character of the science. Details of what the spectrum revealed on the nature of the new stars were briefly told by W. E. Harner of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory.

FIRST OF SERIES
The first of a series of short talks on the constellations, which will be a new feature of this season for the society, was delivered by Robert Peters at the beginning of the meeting.

Mr. Peters stated that the winter nights were the best time for observations, and went on to describe something of what could be seen in the sky at the present time. He dealt with the solar system and the constellation of Orion.

"The heavens are teeming with wonders," said the speaker. "It is marvelous to be able to mingle with the universe."

A tribute to the work of the late Charles Marley was paid by Mr. Brydon, president of the branch, at the opening of the meeting.

YOUTH'S TONGUE FROZEN TO PIPE

Associated Press

Columbia, S.C., Feb. 7. Glistening ice on the refrigeration pipes of the Hospital Street hotel here looked so good to Woodrow Peterson, seventeen-year-old hospital attendant, that he decided to taste it.

Peterson placed his moist tongue on the "white snow." It froze stiff. His cries attracted Dr. D. F. Adcock and others of the hospital staff to the basement.

The pipe was defrosted, freeing Peterson.

"TROUBLED WITH CONSTIPATION" FOR PAST 25 YEARS
Then ALL-BRAN Brought Welcome Relief

Read this voluntary letter from Mr. Leaver: "I have been troubled with constipation for the past 25 years. I tried practically every cathartic without results."

"Recently, I determined to give Kellogg's ALL-BRAN a fair trial. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has not only helped me, but I believe it is an actual relief for chronic constipation."—Mr. Henry E. Leaver. Address upon request.

"Due to frequent 'bail' in meals."

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bail" to aid elimination. It also furnishes vitamins B and iron.

The "bail" in ALL-BRAN is gentle and safe for normal individuals. Often more effective than "bail" in fruits and vegetables, as it does not break down within the body.

Isn't this natural food pleasanter than patent medicines? Just eat two tablespoons daily. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved, see your doctor.

Get the red and green packages at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

PRESBYTERIAL HEARS REPORTS

Excellent Progress in All Branches of United W.M.S. Endeavor Recorded

Delegates to the ninth annual meeting of the Victoria Presbyterian of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church got down to business this morning with the receiving of reports in all branches of the work.

The devotional service was led by Mrs. W. P. Bunt of St. Andrew's. Mrs. Bunt, who read a selection from the Twenty-seventh Psalm. This was followed by the roll call of the delegates. The resolutions and courtesy committees were appointed and include Mrs. G. Henderson, Mrs. F. W. Laing, Mrs. W. P. Bunt and Mrs. Prior.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT
The financial statement, presented by Mrs. S. Shaw, revealed total receipts of $6,941.94, of which the auxiliaries contributed $5,823.01; evening auxiliaries, $619.84; circles, $131.58; bands, $275.78; baby bands, $2.50, and C.O.I.T. group, $60.23. Expenditures included $4,726.50 to the conference branch.

Mrs. J. Travis, in her report as recording secretary, recalled the very successful rally held in June and the reported resignation of Miss Martin of the Oriental Home, and the appointment of her successor, Miss Brown. She also made reference to the indefatigable work of the courtesy committee, which had welcomed seventeen missionaries, arriving here on their way to foreign fields and presenting them with little parting gifts.

UNION ANNIVERSARY
In presenting the tenth anniversary of Union, Mrs. George Guy stated that the Dominion board asked for a 10 per cent increase in membership, in gifts and in new subscribers to the magazines of the society.

Mrs. Guy stressed a greater concentration to the splendid work carried on by the women of the United Church in caring for the underprivileged, the sick and the stranger, both at home and in foreign countries.

ORIENTAL INTEREST GROWS
Mrs. F. Calvert, corresponding secretary, noted the close co-operation between auxiliaries, mission and baby bands and C.O.I.T., especially in Victoria. Both Japanese and Chinese memberships had increased. Upcoming reports testified to the pleasure in the visiting speakers, she recorded. The auxiliary at Duncan was the newest addition to the roll.

Mrs. W. L. Smith, stranger's secretary, reported a total of 5,223 calls having been made, 807 of these being in the home. Hospitals had been visited regularly and gifts of books, Bibles, fruit and vegetables had been given where they were much appreciated. A high spirit of optimism was noticed in all the auxiliary reports and a promise of even better work in the coming year.

LIBRARY NEWS
The library secretary, Mrs. F. W. Laing, reported sending out the following: 24 books and 225 parcels of papers and magazines, 10 lbs. of used Christmas cards and 12 parcels sent to Trinidad; 40 hymn books, 18 Bibles, 40 books, 40 parcels of clothing, 26 parcels of Sunday school papers; as well as calendars, music, jigsaw puzzles, scrapbooks, a pulpit Bible, a complete set of Encyclopaedia Britannica, a layette, seeds and bulbs, pictures, candy, jallors' samples enough for four quilts, Christmas and Easter greeting cards.

The report of Christian stewardship secretary noted auxiliaries are well informed on the principles of Christian stewardship, and its aim is for deeper devotion and spiritual life, together with a desire to be of service to others. Mrs. Laing also noted the Presbyterial has exceeded the amount set as the allocation.

Miss G. Baker in the missionary monthly report recorded 622 auxiliary members in the Victoria Presbyterial, 510 of these subscribing to the missionary monthly. The mission bands have 425 members and only eighty of these subscribe to World Friends. Miss Baker urged each delegate to go back to their auxiliary determined to have an intelligent knowledge and enthusiasm for the missionary magazines.

OTHER REPORTS
Mrs. Cliff, the press secretary, told of much publicity given in the daily papers and that items of interest have been sent to the branch press secretary. The Presbyterial Press secretary asked all auxiliaries to report to her of work during the year, also any outstanding meetings or items of interest that could be sent to the missionary monthly.

For the Associated Helpers, Mrs. H. Watson recorded 254 associate members, who had raised $776.50 in all. For the literature department, Mrs. Laing reported twenty-three study books and sixty-nine annual report books, and fifty-three letters and reports sent out. Mrs. F. C. McWhinney led the gathering in prayer. During the devotional silent tribute was paid to the memory of Mrs. Moore of Nanaimo, an active worker who passed away recently.

At a very successful bridge and five hundred party held yesterday evening in St. Ann's parish hall, Mrs. Percy C. Shaw won the ladies' bridge prize and Mrs. Shaw the gentlemen's. Mrs. C. Fitzgerald, leader of the ladies' bridge, and Mrs. Schellen the men's prize. Mrs. Blair Reid conveyed cards and Mrs. A. Cowden the refreshments, assisted by Mrs. M. Devereaux, Mrs. E. Gifford, Mrs. J. Mahoney and Mrs. Webb. The party was arranged and sponsored by Victoria Sub-Catholic Women's League for its funds.

Miss Ruth McKee of Vancouver, formerly of St. Margaret's School, Victoria, left last Saturday for Santiago, Chile, where she will take up a teaching position. Mrs. McKee is accompanying her daughter as far as Los Angeles and from there Mrs. McKee will travel by boat to Valparaiso, reaching Santiago about March 6. Miss McKee's departure has been the occasion of several "bon voyage" parties in Vancouver. Mrs. A. C. Wingham, 2125 Grant Street, accompanied Mrs. McKee to the ship and Mrs. Elizabeth Dow, 6815 West Twelfth Avenue, entertaining at the tea hour when the guest of honor was the recipient of many gifts.

PERSONAL

Major R. Panning, accompanied by Mrs. Panning, and their four children, have left for England, where they will make their future home.

Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Ridwood, who have been visiting in Victoria, have returned to their home in Victoria after a short visit in Seattle.

Salvation Army Turns To Youth

Evangelistic Work, More Than Social, Favored by General Evangelist Booth, Says Commissioner

"Ignorance" said Commissioner John McMillan when asked by newspapermen on his arrival here what had been the reaction to the election of General Evangelist Booth as head of the Salvation Army. "There could have been no other choice," he proceeded. "He is a most efficient and magnetic leader, and the army will continue to progress under his guidance."

The commissioner spoke animatedly of General Booth's remarkable work in the United States, and also in Canada, where she is well known, having worked in this country for a number of years.

General Evangelist Booth wished to be remembered to Canada and she entrusted me to carry the message," said the new commissioner to Canada, who was accompanied by the first well-known meeting in New York.

The personal popularity of General Booth was evidenced when 20,000 people jammed the Grand Central station to send the army leader on his way to London.

The installation took place in the Albert Hall in London on November 10, Viscount Stanley, the British Lord Chancellor, presided, and Hon. Robert W. Bingham, United States Ambassador, "gave her away."

GENERAL COMING

General Booth is expected to come to Canada for the Dominion-wide Salvation Army conference to be held in Toronto next October. The commissioner said, Commissioner McMillan is in charge of the conference to assume full control of the Salvation Army activities in this country. "I am delighted to be back among the Canadian people," he observed. He told of his reception by Viscount Bessborough, and also by Premier Bennett at Ottawa. "The Governor-General expressed his interest in the work of the Salvation Army and he displayed a remarkable knowledge of Canadian affairs," said Commissioner McMillan. "I saw Premier Bennett the day after Parliament opened and although he was a very busy man, he gave me a lot of his time and assured me of his sympathy with our activities."

CHALLENGE MET

"We have been making a fine address to our difficulties during the last four years. It has been a challenge to the army in many ways, but our organization has answered admirably," said Commissioner McMillan, speaking of the work of the Salvation Army. "These four years have been serious years but we are stronger in numbers and are financially sound."

Under his new leader, the Salvation Army is turning its attention more to the evangelistic side of the army work. In comparison with the social side, but although more prominence will be given to the evangelistic movement, the social side will not be allowed to suffer, Commissioner McMillan said.

The army is also concentrating upon the "Youth Movement," he stated, and an alliance is being formed in Great Britain with the Boy Scouts whereby the Salvation Army and the scouts could work unitedly in the interests of underprivileged children.

NOT AFRAID OF CHANGE

"We are not afraid of change," said the commissioner. "That is the trouble with the world to-day. It is afraid of change." McMillan was born in Scotland. He came out to Canada as an early age and was educated in Toronto. He is a nephew of the late Capt. John McLeod, one of the best-known captains of the C.P.R. coast service.

Recalling his first visit to Victoria in 1901, the commissioner remarked that he had watched the "pulling of stumps on the main street of a small town called Vancouver while he was waiting to take the boat to the great city of Victoria."

Mrs. McMillan, the commissioner's wife, is an Australian. She was Capt. Frances White before her marriage and prominent in the army work of the commonwealth. Mrs. McMillan was recently elected one of the vice-presidents of the National Council of Women.

GOOD NIKES

The new head of the Salvation Army in Canada is not adverse to being known as a good niker. He makes a point of knowing his subordinate officers by their first names. He is a good teller and confessor that he likes to meet people.

Commissioner McMillan said the calls on the Salvation Army in Canada and elsewhere are greater than ever, despite the fact that governments are taking more responsibility for relief.

"There is more to do than feed, clothe and shelter people," he said. "We do our part in that respect, but the need for moral service and the healing up of morale is greater than it ever was."

"We are doing more valuable work in Canada than I left in 1923. Money is harder to get, but we are solvent. The army is greater and more influential," he commented.

The commissioner is a strong believer in democratic methods. He wants to see more autonomy for local staffs, more recognition for local officers in the conduct of local affairs.

Commissioner McMillan called upon Lieutenant-Governor Johnson and Premier Pattullo to-day.

Favors Practical School Training

"Educated ignorance" was the subject of an address given by John Gough, M.A., to members of the Revellers' Club at their dinner meeting in the Club House last night. Gough, who is a member of the club, pointed out that it is not only a student for a vacation but also a student for a lifetime.

Warm Welcome At Citadel

Commissioner J. McMillan and Wife Honored By Local Corps

A typical Salvation Army welcome was extended to Commissioner John McMillan, new Canadian territorial commander with jurisdiction over Newfoundland, Alaska and Bermuda, and his wife, the former Capt. Frances White, at the Broad Street Citadel last night.

The hall was crowded by Salvationists and others and the enthusiasm was at a high pitch. Commissioner McMillan was appointed by General Evangelist Booth to succeed Commissioner James Hay as Canadian territorial commander. He was accompanied by his wife, the former Capt. Frances White, and his daughter, Miss McMillan, who is a member of the local corps.

The new Canadian commissioner and his wife were officially welcomed on behalf of the province by Hon. Gordon Sloan, K.C., Attorney-General, by Mayor Leeming on behalf of the city, and by Rev. E. P. Church, pastor of the Metropolitan United Church representing local churches.

A cable was read from the speaker's platform from General Evangelist Booth, commending the new commissioner and Mrs. McMillan to the Victoria corps.

APPEAL TO YOUTH In conformity with the Salvation Army's appeal to the youth of the world, Commissioner McMillan, in the course of his remarks, called upon the young members of the corps to be ready to do the work that lies ahead, and to prepare themselves for service in the mission field.

He praised the work of the Victoria corps and paid high tribute to the pioneer workers. The commissioner was visibly affected by the warmth of the welcome extended to his wife and himself.

Mrs. McMillan spoke briefly and appealed to the women members to do their utmost in the service. She expressed pleasure in being able to return to Victoria, nineteen years after her first visit to the city. Both Commissioner and Mrs. McMillan spoke of their great joy in being appointed to lead the Salvation Army work in Canada.

EVANGELIZATION NEEDED Attorney-General Sloan in welcoming the Salvation Army leaders, extolled the work of the organization. He said the need for extensive evangelization throughout the world was a fact that everyone who followed the Salvation Army for the success of its efforts in rehabilitating discharged prisoners.

Mayor Leeming said the Victoria corps contributed measurably to the spiritual welfare of the district, and he lauded the attention paid to the physical needs of people in distress in the city and neighboring municipalities. Everyone, the mayor said, had a keen appreciation of the Salvation Army.

Rev. Mr. Church spoke of the remarkable accomplishments of the Salvation Army and of the high respect in which it was held by the city churches.

"I never miss an opportunity to assist the Salvation Army, and I am glad to have the opportunity to ask them to help me," said Mr. Church, Adjutant L. Ede, commander of the Victoria Corps, pledged the support and loyalty of the local organization.

SCHOOL RATE MAY INCREASE

Saanich Trustees to Require Additional Money For Improvements in 1935

To carry out much-needed improvements to school buildings and grounds, the Saanich School Board this year will probably require approximately $1,000 more from municipal revenue than was received during 1934. This was indicated at a meeting of the trustees yesterday evening when they gave first consideration to a preliminary draft of the 1935 estimates.

During the depression years the board was forced to forego a number of necessary works and they feel these must be carried out this year. Last year practically the only work of any material value which the trustees were able to complete was that made possible through the assistance of donations from parent-teacher associations.

Last year the trustees received from the municipal levy $60,022, exclusive of the special grant for McKenzie Avenue school. This total included the Craigflower School levy of $3,542. The tentative estimate for this year call for $61,890 from the municipal treasury, but this figure has not been settled. It is expected to vary slightly before the estimates are completed. This total would mean a small increase in the school rate of 1.4 mills, the extra amount representing about one-fifth of a mill.

The gross expenditure last year was $124,574, and this year it is expected to be in the neighborhood of $125,571, depending on the variations in the amount required from municipal revenue.

Among the expenditures passed by the board was $11,721 for teachers' salaries, which last year was $11,025. The increase is brought about by regular increments to smaller-salaried teachers, which go through on the regular schedule until these teachers reach the maximum of the scale.

The trustees expect to complete their estimates by next Tuesday, when a special meeting will be held to finally pass them.

DRAMA FESTIVAL AND CRITICISM

all the directors and players attending the festival and also to young people who hope to take part on future occasions. No one will suggest that the W.B.I. drama festival is organized for the entertainment of audiences in the town.

Though it is true that most of us go to the theatre for entertainment, it is also true that before the day of corrupting importations from Hollywood certain cities in Great Britain took great pride in the quality of their citizens to form critical opinions on the work of players in new productions. The people of Victoria prefer an hour's amusement from a moving picture to intelligent appreciation of dramatic art. This is due to mental dullness, which may be removed by the educational effect of public criticism. There may be directors and teachers who wish that the audience would not think, but this is a weakness which may be overcome if they take pains to follow the advice of the adjudicator.

Although the ambitions which were cherished years ago when the Royal Theatre was opened are dead, and although Victoria will not support a stock company, we should not lose hope. Some day somebody will rise in the city hall to suggest that a famous little theatre should be founded. Then all will be well. Our citizens will develop a critical interest in the work of producers and in the progress of players, which will be very good for all of us.

WARNING

To the Editor:—May I, through the medium of your paper, express my strong endorsement of the letter written by Mrs. Lillian Biles re telephone charges. I believe the company would in a short time do a larger and more profitable business if the monthly charge was reduced to $1.50.

May I also state frankly that there would, I think, be a better feeling amongst citizens generally towards the company than has existed since the installation of the dial system, which, as you are aware, led to many persons being put out of employment. In other words, the company's running expenses were considerably reduced, and its already substantial profits considerably increased without any advantage whatever to its patrons.

I submit, sir, that now, during this time of stress and hardship, is the time when some consideration by the company along the line indicated would be much appreciated.

W. T. ANDREWS, 460 Standard Avenue, Victoria.

ORIENTALS

To the Editor:—It was presumably on account of its length that you did not publish my reply to Mr. J. K. Winch's letter of January 22. But you will no doubt accord me the privilege of replying at less length.

Mr. Connell, in his letter published on December 31, very adequately described Mr. Winch's controversial method.

Mr. Winch suggests that the C.C.F. is subsidized by the "Oriental penetration-fund"—of the existence of which he has produced no proof—and that Mr. Woodworth and Professor Brock and Angus advocate a policy that they know will prove ruinous to the people of B.C. but makes no attempt to substantiate these statements or, if unable to do so, withdraw them.

He refers to Mr. Woodworth having traveled to and from the Orient in Japanese boats in a manner suggesting this fact has some sinister significance, but leaves the inference to be drawn entirely to the imagination.

He ignores the principal issues raised in my letter of January 18 and confines his "reply" to a rehash of news that everyone who follows the events of the day in the press is familiar with, and to less important points. As an instance of the latter, he asserts there is a connection between two widely impossible linguistic schemes. Even if his assertion is correct the schemes are too fantastic for serious consideration, but no connection between them is indicated by the quotations upon which he bases his argument.

No reply has been made to questions asked in my letter published on January 3, questions which Mr. Winch, as secretary of the Anti-Oriental Penetration League of B.C. should be able to answer off-hand.

When asked to explain what he means by one of his statements he replies that he does not intend to answer riddles. While quite prepared to accept Mr. Winch's assertion that the statement in question is a riddle, I naturally assumed that, having himself propounded it, he would know the answer.

His reference to Mr. Bennett's contribution to Conservative campaign funds is no answer to my suggestion that publication of the particulars of all party funds should be made compulsory.

His assertion that "in about forty years' time" the Japanese in South America will amount to 50 per cent of the population of that continent is ridiculous. Does he really believe this can happen in less than two generations?

PREDICTS DEATH
FOR CAPITALISMA. Russell Mark Addresses
C.C.F. Meeting at Keating;
Flays System

Meeting, Feb. 7. A. Russell Mark, speaking before a C.C.F. meeting at Keating on Tuesday, declared that capitalism would die a violent death. He spoke on "Independence and Prosperity Under the C.C.F."

Fifteen years ago, ninety-five men controlled 90 per cent of Canada's industrial production; today twenty-eight men are in control, he said. "When these twenty-eight men decide a certain price is to be paid for an article, you pay it or go without," he said.

Orchestra's Visit
Financial Success

The visit to Victoria of the Seattle Symphony Orchestra last week was an outstanding success, financially and in other ways, Alfred Carmichael told members of the Rotary Club at their luncheon to-day.

The afternoon performance at the Royal Victoria Theatre brought in $680, Mr. Carmichael said. There were 621 persons in the audience, most of them were school children. In the evening approximately 1,000 persons attended.

Ald. James Adam reminded Rotarians of the Rotary dinner which will be held at the Crystal Garden next Tuesday evening.

It was reported that Percy Watson and E. W. McMillan, who are connected with St. Joseph's Hospital, were making favorable progress.

The City Council will be asked to temporarily withhold approval of racing dates asked by the Outpost Park Association for this year's horse meets, according to a letter filed at the City Hall to-day by the British Columbia Agricultural Association.

The communication was signed by the secretary, W. E. Moore. "To date the racing interests have informed the city they are unable to run a meet this year here during fair weather."

NEWS IN BRIEF

Donald McDonald of Trail was appointed a stipendiary magistrate by the government to-day.

Regular meeting of the Victoria and District Council Association will be held on Saturday in the Municipal Hall, Port Street, at 8 o'clock.

Estimates were prepared yesterday evening by the Esquimalt School Board for submission to the Municipal Council.

The collection from the tag day held last Saturday by the Canadian Labor Defence League realized $55.52. The league thanks all donors for their assistance.

The Victoria High School fifteen will meet the Brentwood College squad in an exhibition rugby fixture to-morrow afternoon at the High School grounds at 5.50 o'clock.

After considering representations on the case, the government to-day decided to remit $500 of a $500 fine imposed on Charles Hanson, Cherryville, B.C., for supplying liquor to a minor.

After falling off for several weeks owing to the adverse effects of the weather on trade, bank clearings in Victoria for the week ended Feb. 5 were again above the figure for the corresponding period of last year. The figures were $1,519,976 and $1,507,043.

As part of the organization change for the new inspection branch on minimum wages, Michael E. McGowan has been transferred from the relief department and made an inspector in that branch. It was announced at the Parliament Buildings to-day.

A meeting of the Victoria Real Estate Board will be held to-morrow noon at 12.30 o'clock in the Victoria dining room. T. Stradbury will address the members on the subject of "Subdivision of Lands With Architectural Harmony." The speaker has wide experience in realty circles.

The monthly meeting of the Guelph P.T.A. will be held in the Mount View High School to-morrow afternoon at 8 o'clock. The speaker will be the subject of "Subdivision of Lands With Architectural Harmony." The speaker has wide experience in realty circles.

John Kyle, director of technical education in the Department of Education, will address the pupils, parents and interested friends in the Mount View High School to-morrow afternoon at 8 o'clock. The speaker will be the subject of "Subdivision of Lands With Architectural Harmony." The speaker has wide experience in realty circles.

The annual meeting of the Children's Aid Society will be held at the City Hall on Thursday, February 14, at 8 p.m. Dr. G. Davidson, president of the society, will be the special speaker. It is hoped that all members will attend to hear his address.

Edward Chen was fined $15 and $2 costs in the Provincial Police Court yesterday when he pleaded guilty to a charge of overloading his wood truck on the Highway Act. The truck was found to be overloaded by 1,815 pounds on the truck, which was more than 3,000 pounds in excess of the five-ton weight allowed.

Professor Drummond, M.A., M.Sc. (Econ.) will deliver an address on "Canada's Economic Position" before the University Extension Association this evening at 8 o'clock at Victoria College. For having in his possession a pump shotgun capable of holding more than one cartridge in the magazine, Robert Curtis, a fisherman, was fined $10 and $5 costs in the Provincial Police Court yesterday. Public statements in the press of the objects and belief of the organization are a strong feature of the work of the headquarters in Toronto, and a recent development is aggressive work in defence of Christian truth in the public and educational life of the Dominion.

Prior to the speaker's address the announcement was made that the commissioner for Canada, Rev. E. J. Springett, and Lt.-Col. W. G. McMillan, author of "The Destiny of Britain and America," will arrive in Victoria and address two meetings on February 28 and March 1.

REPORTS ON
FIELD CROPSEarly Varieties of Grain Best
For Central B.C. and Peace District

The growing of early varieties of grain in central British Columbia and in the Peace River district, to escape the consequences of unfavorable weather conditions at harvesting time, is recommended by field trials conducted by the Department of Agriculture, upon the work of the field crops branch for 1934.

For experimental purposes distribution through district agriculturists was made last spring of a number of samples of Gopher and White Cross oats for planting on suitable farms in the districts affected. Whilst complete returns have not been received as yet, the field crops commissioner states that preliminary reports indicate that the results obtained have been satisfactory.

Grain crops in general during 1934 gave an average yield but weather conditions in the Peace River district at the time of harvest were unfavorable through early snowfall. The averages devoted to Timothy seed in central British Columbia and to red clover seed in the Peace River district were about the same as last year, the report shows.

NEW TYPE OF CLOVER
As a step towards the improvement and increased production of forage plants, small quantities of Alpha alfalfa seed, a variety of alfalfa, were sent to the common biennial clover, being of dwarf character and producing more leaf and less stalk. The field crops commissioner states that the results obtained have been satisfactory.

From the desert plateau of India, Ladak alfalfa was introduced to the United States, and from there it was brought to Canada. The alfalfa is the longest lived, the most drought resistant, the leafiest, the hardest and the highest yielding alfalfa for high altitudes in the Pacific Northwest.

Production of Timothy, red clover and alfalfa seed in British Columbia during 1934 was very satisfactory. Mr. T. J. Jones, and points out that, due to the weather, the alfalfa seed in the United States and in parts of Canada, prices to growers here will be higher than they have been for some time.

Chas. F. MacPherson, M.P.P., minister of public works, said that the government was spending more money than ever on highways during the coming year. He said an improved highway between the interior and the coast would improve the understanding of the peoples in the two areas. Coast people would go into the interior and people from the interior would visit the coast. Once the programme of improved highways was started, the minister stated, it would be an economical one. Better highways would mean less annual expenditure for maintenance, he said.

NEED GOOD BRIDGES
British Columbia had approximately 19,000 miles of highway, compared with 16,000 miles in the province of Ontario, Mr. MacPherson stated during his address. There was $20,000,000 invested in the roads of British Columbia. The annual cost of these roads was about $1,500,000. About $5,000,000 was invested in bridges. In addition to these there were the ferries in various parts of the province. The minister stated that the government was spending more money than ever on highways during the coming year. TO SPEAK TO-NIGHT
Is Full-blooded Story With Action and Humor

A film with almost everything that the perfect show should have, and very little that it should not, will appear on the screen of the Capitol Theatre on Saturday. It is "Lives of a Bengal Lancer," which is supposed to have been inspired by Francis Yeats-Brown's book, "Bengal Lancer," but has in reality no connection whatever with it, except in title.

A preview of the film was given at the Capitol Theatre this morning before a distinguished audience. J. M. Robertson, manager of the theatre, received many congratulations on bringing the show to Victoria.

The story is wild and full-blooded, but there are many patches of humor which relieve any danger of heaviness. There is sentiment, but no sentimentality. And, greatest of all blessings, there is no sex and no snuff.

The tales in that of a squadron of the 1st Bengal Lancers stationed on the northwest frontier of India, where active service is still almost routine. This handful of white men control many millions of natives. They need courage, strong nerves and an enormous amount of tact.

GIVEN FINE PORTRAYAL
The squadron is commanded by a typical Indian army colonel. Sir Guy Standing fits the part into this role of the gruff disciplinarian, who has a great deal of tenderness and a shrewd brain which never shows on the surface.

In an unit are three subalterns. Gary Cooper in the part of a Scotch Canadian, who is rather too impulsive, and two newcomers, Francis Tane, transferred from another regiment and the possessor of a whimsical sense of humor, and Richard Cromwell, fresh out from Sandhurst, and combining the disadvantages of being the colonel's son and not being possessed of an especially strong will.

The film develops through the intrigues of a mountain chieftain who succeeds in wlaying a convey of ammunition, assisted by a Russian-born female spy—the only woman of importance in the whole picture—in the person of Kathleen Burke.

How the three subalterns get into the hands of the chieftain is a question, how they are tortured and how they finally escape, destroying the chieftain's stronghold in the process, forms the main theme of the story.

In the development of this tale there is suspense and, at the end, real action.

Interwoven with the plot are pig-sticking, a tiger hunt, a dog fight, a horse race, and the every-day life of an Indian cavalry regiment.

The settings are superb: there are no evidences of cardboard and plaster, nor is there any artificial exaggeration. The Hindus are real Hindus and the horses beautiful horses.

Seen at all in all, "Lives of a Bengal Lancer" is a film which will appeal to all ages and all types of mind. It has action, and it means something.

Victoria Rugby Officials Decline Controversy With Vancouver

THE SPORTS MIRROR

CAREY STENGEL is a drill wit. The boss of the Brouillards, National Football League club, can crack a joke with the best of them. Sometimes it is with reverse English shot back by the receiver and Carey is the first to crack a smile. When things go hot on the playing field his players bustle the humor. He is a prince of good fellows, and they know it. Getting straightened out last season with the return of injured players to the line-up, Carey's Brouillards closed with a rush that would have placed them in the first division had they been able to start a month earlier.

Carey has profound respect for Carey's judgment. He is not a theorist. He learned his baseball on the playing field through the brain of Carey. He has the happy faculty of transmitting this knowledge to the young players he has gathered around him.

Carey's smile is broad these days. Ray Benge, a chronic hold-out, signed on the dotted line almost immediately on receiving his contract, and this may mean a lot to Stengel. Benge, who played for the Phillies before going to Brooklyn and was a star with a fast and accurate arm, is a tall, dark, and well-built player. He did not sign until the latter part of the season, but he has been a valuable asset to the team. Carey's smile is broad these days. Stengel will rely on his bosome to hold the Dodgers into the first division. With a lineup including Ray Benge, Johnny Mott, and Earl (Dutch) Leonard as starting hurlers, Carey's mind is at ease. He will feel much better about the team's chances for the 1935 season. This is one of the reasons why Carey has never used his name when trade talk was in the air.

Stengel Lewis passed his fortieth birthday Monday, and he would not like to see the well-set-up wrestler going through the motions of twisting an opponent's head from his shoulders. Lewis, who has been a holdout without grinning, as do some of the young "athletes" acting up these days. It may be an act and then again it may not. Lewis, who you look at and think he is a man, you cannot understand may ask: "How in the world can a man of his size tug and maul a younger man four or five years his junior?" The question has been asked many times. It has not been satisfactorily answered as yet, but the wrestler continues to do it. And even more the worse for wear.

Lewis has been in some tough bouts. His face has to look like it went through a butcher's meat-chopper after he got through with a match. But he and his opponent, Lewis, who has been a holdout without grinning, as do some of the young "athletes" acting up these days. It may be an act and then again it may not. Back in the days when Joe Stecher and Earl Caddock were kingpins, Lewis was around trying to break into the sport. He was a champion in some of the United States and a mighty good one in the bargain. Caddock was a master of the game, and Lewis was a specialist in a leg-act. Joe went to have a lot of fun showing the fans how he could squeeze a neck full of sweat into the pressure of a wrestling hold. As Public Laughs At Crehan Charge, Union Is Silent

Capital City Far From Petty and Antagonistic in Provincial Body, Ker Says

SHOW FALLACY OF STATEMENT

Officials of Victoria's Rugby Union to-day refused to be drawn into a controversy over the blast by Maurice Crehan, president of the Vancouver Rugby Union, and a delegate to the British Columbia body, to the effect that Victoria's part in provincial deliberations had been "petty and antagonistic."

Without getting aspersions on Crehan himself, some of the local officials expressed the opinion it was unfortunate he had made the utterance quoted in a Vancouver dispatch.

CREHAN CHARGES

The Vancouver story, carried by the Canadian Press, stated:

"Maurice Crehan, president of the Vancouver Rugby Union, and a delegate to the British Columbia Rugby Union, holds no brief for Victoria delegates and their suggestion to equalize voting in the provincial body. As a 'veteran' he did not get started until late but managed to finish with fourteen games on the winning side. He is a tall, dark, and well-built player. He did not sign until the latter part of the season, but he has been a valuable asset to the team.

However, I will not speak for the Vancouver union until that body has discussed the proposal, but I think the increased executive would be altogether too unwieldy."

The last statement merely brought to the provincial union.

He noted Crehan had stated Victoria's suggestion would, in the Vancouver man's opinion, make the executive unwieldy.

Victoria's proposal aimed to reduce the size of the executive to three delegates from Vancouver Island and three from the mainland, with a president chosen by the delegates.

As present the executive is composed of five delegates, two from Vancouver Island and three from the mainland, with a president chosen by the delegates.

It was difficult, the Victoria remarked, to understand how the reduction of the body by 50 per cent would make it more unwieldy.

Commenting on the reported statement by Crehan, the British Columbia union has been closed all year by the petty, antagonistic attitude of Victoria delegates. Russell Ker, Victoria delegate, merely remarked: "It certainly has not."

Carey Martin, president of the local union, declined to comment on the statement, but said Victoria's objective was merely one aimed to secure equality for the island in the provincial deliberations.

H. J. Ketchen, Victoria secretary of the British Columbia body, as well as Arthur Cox and Bob McInnes, delegates from the Capital City, could not be reached to-day.

CAUSES MIRTH

In unofficial local rugby circles, comment was not so kind to Crehan. Some merely laughed at his remarks. Others were inclined to be irate over the statement which they considered presumptuous.

They pointed to Victoria's showings in recent McMillan Cup encounters. The inter-city series was left unsatisfactorily incomplete, Victoria had dominated the series, they noted, pointing to the Capital City's triumph in winning the trophy three seasons ago and retaining it the next season.

They also remarked upon current belief here that Victoria, more than any other union, has been financing the statement of the official opinion that Crehan's remarks were not worth a reply.

The whole matter would come up at the next meeting of the British Columbia Union, leaders here stated.

Brouillard Has Fractured Hand

Los Angeles, Feb. 7.—The former left hand of Lou Brouillard, better known as the middleweight and welterweight boxing titles, was a useless weapon to-day.

The second fracture was broken in Tuesday night's bout with Eddie Jimenez, in which Brouillard scored a technical knockout in the fourth round. The boxer complained of pain after the battle and X-rays revealed the fracture.

Was Daffy's Face Crimson

Not Springs, Ark., Feb. 7.—This one on Paul Dean is going the rounds here:

"I beg your pardon, sir, but aren't you Paul Dean, the baseball pitcher?" he asked.

Paul admitted his identity, and the stranger asked for his autograph. Daffy obliged, commenting: "You look big and husky yourself. Did you ever play baseball?"

"Oh, yes, I have played a little; I like the game."

"Oh, I enjoy pitching very much. I used to be pretty good at it."

"By the way, Paul, who entered the major leagues only last year, became somewhat suspicious."

"No," he declared abruptly.

"George Barnshaw," the big fellow replied with a grin.

GOOD CROWD AT JAMBOREE

Fine Affair Put on By Rugby Union Draws Big Crowd at Armories

Approximately 500 people were in attendance at yesterday evening's tag jamboree, which was held at the Armories under the auspices of the Victoria Rugby Union, with the proceeds going to the St. Joseph's Hospital in aid of the Injured Player's Fund.

The feature attractions of the evening were boxing and wrestling bouts, vaudeville acts and slideshows, which consisted of horse races, roulette, coconut shy and a number of lesser attractions.

Fighting in the 170-pound class Jack Daley, Canadian Scotman, gained an easy victory over Fred Pooner of the Garrison, in a three, two-minute round light-heavyweight bout.

Carly, fifth brigade, 150 pounds, gained the decision over Ken Buxton, 150 pounds, of the Garrison. Buxton, in a three, two-minute round light-heavyweight bout.

Those who took part in the vaudeville programme were Leo Holden, who played cowboy numbers with his guitar, and Jimmy Haggart and Ernie Pullerton, accordion numbers. An exhibition of sleight-of-hand tricks was given by Ernie Croft.

According to officials the jamboree was pronounced a financial success. The event was arranged by the following committee: Major Stuart Robertson, chairman; Lieut.-Col. W. H. Smith, Major J. H. Hunter, Percy Wilson, Brian Hunnington and Cyril Wightman.

That's the same amount Langford got for his first professional fight in Boston in 1901 when he knocked out Jack McVicker. He fought them all after that, from lightweights up through the heavyweights. He never weighed more than 170 pounds. He lost a ten-round decision early in his career to Jack Johnson, knocked out Harry Wills a couple of times.

He fought for seven years with one eye and no one knew it—after Fred Fulton connected with a right to his temple in 1917.

He must have made hundreds of thousands. He got as high as $10,000 for flatfights in the year 1908 in England. In London in 1908. He is forty-nine now, absolutely destitute, and a starlet has blinded the eye Fulton left him.

"First thing I learned," he said, "was you didn't break no hunches hitting 'em in the body. So I hit 'em there. They sure come down when you hit 'em right."

The toughest fight he ever had was the 1914 battle with Wills in Los Angeles, when he was nailed with a right under the gun, was floored three times in the first, three more in the second, again in the third, and came back to knock the "Black Man" out in the fourteenth.

"Ah sure was glad to get rid of that man that night," he said.

But the greatest fighter of them all, in those days, was another negro, Joe Walcott, the Barbados demon, who never weighed as much as 150 pounds yet knocked out good heavyweights with a punch.

"Fifteen rounds," I fought him a draw in Manchester, N.H., in 1904 and, man, could he hit! He hit me on the chin with a right in the sixth, and for three rounds I couldn't swallow. I saw him hit a heavyweight one punch in the liver, and that man's side turned chalk white, then red as if you pointed it.

NEVER STOPPED COMING

"Walcott could take these heavyweights to-day and live 'em high to 'em. He'd tear the body out of a man as big as Currier. He could've named the punch with Wills. He'd have knocked out the Johnson. I fought in two or three rounds. He was a terrible hitter. He never stopped coming at you."

Members of the B.C. Cabinet staged the feature badminton match as the new Civil Service Sports Club in the old Drill Hall on Menzies Street was officially opened yesterday evening.

After Premier Pattullo had driven a glided shuttlecock over the net to start the proceedings, he and his finance minister, Hon. John Hart, teamed up to play Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Mines and Labour, and Hon. P. M. MacPherson, Minister of Public Works.

None of the ministers had played the game before, but the Premier and Mr. Hart, who are expert golfers, soon demonstrated their quickness of eye and had the shuttle swinging across in good style. Mr. Pearson, on the other side, revealed a fine drive and Mr. MacPherson's strong point was in recovery. The match ended in a draw.

Under Constable H. F. Hughes of the B.C. Police, women members of the club put on a gymnastic display which drew comments of admiration from the Premier. Constable Hughes is the physical training instructor, assisted by W. E. Tait.

Afterwards badminton and ping-pong matches between members were staged and refreshments were served at the close.

The newly-organized club already has a membership of over 150, headed by Alex. Gordon, of the forest survey branch, as president. Other officers are: Vice-president, Jack Bacon; secretary, Clarence Purrie; treasurer, Les Clarke; social committee chairman, Aubrey Wall; tennis, D. Ford; ping-pong, Ernie Butler; by-laws, Don Pearson; class organizer, John Grant.

The Premier is honorary president and cabinet ministers are honorary vice-presidents.

BUCKETEERS IN THIRD HOOP WIN

The bewildering Bucketeers, who started to play basketball for exercise and then got interested in the game, looked back on another triumph to-day.

Yesterday evening, at the Memorial Hall, they turned back a strengthened Tillamook aggregation, bolstered by the addition of Doug Peden from the Blue Ribbons and Ian MacDonald, Deslate star, 25 to 25, in a game which saw the rapidly improving boys from Mount Tolmie's and pits drop in baskets from all parts of the floor.

Once again playing-captain-coach-manager, Alan Leisner, guided chief attacking launce as he sent his cohorts toward to win. All members of the squad scored, with Ben Wenden, Frank Tisdall, Rossie Hamer and Archie Miller gaining a good share of the points. Frank Skilling, one of the standbys, was off his game but continued to be useful.

Maxie Baer Must Fight For Garden

New York, Feb. 7.—Max Baer may be allowed to fight ten-round bouts in New York without involving his heavyweight title, but if he tries it for anyone else but Madison Square Garden they will put the law onto him.

"I don't care what the New York State Athletic Commission says," Jimmy Johnston barked yesterday. "If Baer tries to fight here for anyone else but Madison Square Garden they will put the law onto him."

"Just let somebody win a decision over him of ten rounds, and no matter what the commission says, that fellow is the new-world heavyweight champion. If he's going to put a victory like that on us without getting into a bar fight."

MALONE HOLDOUS

Not Springs, Ark., Feb. 7.—Big Pat Malone, first ball pitcher traded to St. Louis Cardinals last fall by Chicago, lined up alongside Danny Dean as a holdout yesterday with his contract for the 1935 season.

Monarchs Win Match 25 to 0

Burns, Switzerland, Feb. 7.—Sweeping through their opponents' defenses almost at will, Winnipeg Monarchs registered what is winningly a record for points making in international hockey competition by crushing the Berns Hockey Club yesterday evening, 25 to 0.

While Monarchs and Spencers fought to a 1 to 1 draw and the Outer Wharf Rangers, showing vast improvement, sprang the season's biggest upset to date by whitewashing the Garrison 3 to 0, Hudson's Bays slipped into first slot in the Wednesday Football League's Friday Cup standings with a 5 to 0 verdict over the Navy yesterday.

The Bays now have four points as the result of two straight wins, while Monarchs and Spencers are tied in the second berth with three each, having won one and drawn another.

Rangers are in fourth position with one win and two draws, and the Navy trail without a point.

Although outplayed most of the way at Heywood Avenue, Spencers wrapped through with a draw when Edgar Borden, outside with seven eleven minutes from time and lifted the Monarchs net.

Borden made the first goal attempt on the clubmen's goal when he hit the upright with a good shot. The Monarchs came back and kept play in the storemen's area until Luzzon got away on the wing on an attack that ended when he crossed nearly and Harris in the Monarchs' net, pushed the ball into the top corner of his own goal seven minutes from the start.

Even COUNT

Some time later Dick Bradley, downed Alex Murray in the penalty area and the Monarchs gained a spot kick. Murray found the lamp with his drive and the Navy Barber was sent back into the empty net to make the score 2 to 0.

Starting off well following the interval, Monarchs went into the lead when Tommy Barrow, outside, scored through to score from close in.

Spencers went all out to avert defeat and Borden finally got a shot home to even up the count.

D. McMillan refereed. The teams follow: Monarchs, Burns, McMillan, Spiller, Embrey, Fieldhouse, Chapman, M. McBride, A. Murray, T. Graves, J. Murray and A. McBride. Spencers, Burns, P. Cook, MacAllister, Douglas, Miller, Edwards and Cook.

RANGERS EASY WINNERS

As Borden hit, Outer Wharf Rangers ran a 1 to 1 tie in the first half, which they completely dominated, and then added another in the second to send the Garrison down to a 3 to 0 defeat.

What the Outer Wharf boys were showing good form, the Tommies turned in one of their worst performances of the season to date.

Strong in the Garrison goal and Wilkinson and Worwick in front of him, stopped the Rangers from gaining an early tally as the Outer Wharf men opened up on the attack.

Thirty minutes from the start, Fred Bourne, inside left, cornered in to whip the ball into the corner of the net with a fine low shot.

Shortly after, Teifer, Rangers' centre forward, lifted a high shot towards the net. Barker came out to save, but before he could get back, Davidson sent the ball into the empty net to make the score 2 to 0.

LACK PUNCH

Although they took the offensive several times in the second half, Garrison players failed to put any punch into their attacks, and were left with few opportunities by trying to walk the ball into the net.

Twenty minutes before the final whistle, Bourne got through to score again and boost the Rangers' total 3 to 0.

NAVY SWAMPED

Netting two goals apiece, Tubby Stevens, Wally Stewart and Harold Sage gave the Hudson's Bays their 5 to 0 verdict over the less experienced Navy squad at Heywood Avenue ground. Each tallied once in the first half and repeated in the second.

The sailors put up a good fight at the start, but they were out of luck, was forced from the field when he collided with Stevens.

Improved Tone In Wall Street With Carriers In Lead

New York, Feb. 7.—Quiet recovery was the rule in today's stock market. Bulls led the rally, although most other sections of the list continued improvement. A few cut spots, however, were in evidence.

The close was fairly firm. Transactions approximated 500,000 shares.

The fact that the carriers found support was highly encouraging to those market students who have held that a general advance was impossible without the aid of the transportation group. Sentiment also appeared to be aided by the statement of Attorney-General Homer Cummings that the government was "ready for any emergency" in the gold claim controversy.

Shares up fractionally to around a point included United Pacific, Santa Fe, N.Y. Central, United States Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, Case, Deere, W.R. Grace, Columbia, Consolidated Gas and Western Union. A loss of nearly four points was suffered by Republic Steel preferred, and Commercial Credit A yielded 5 points.

Canadian Pacific and Dominion Stores held unchanged among Dominion stocks, while Dime and International showed slight improvements.

On the curb, Miram Walker closed Government bonds were inactive. Canadian dollars ruled 1-10 of a cent lower at 69.07 1/2 cents.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—Will you please answer these questions: (1) Do you think it is wise to spend much money on a high school girl? (2) How can a boy tell if a girl really loves him, or isn't there any way to tell? (3) Is it best for a high school boy to go steady with a girl as long as possible? (4) Every time I go to a dance with a certain girl her family pay my way. If they didn't, I couldn't go out with her, so I have no money of my own. I love her so much I can't seem to keep away from her. Please tell me what to do. BOMBO.

Answer — (1) A schoolboy should not spend much money on girls because it is not his own money that he is spending. It is his parents' and he should make as few demands upon them as possible. When a boy is poor it is certainly a selfish and cruel thing for him to make his father and mother take the hard-earned money that they need for themselves and give it to him to spend on girls. He should not take the bread out of his family's mouth.

(2) There is no absolute infallible way of telling whether a girl is in love with you or not, since even the most apparently artless maiden is adept in dissimulation. But, as a general thing, a girl in love gives plenty of indications of the state of her feelings for you to judge by. Is she always hanging around and contriving accidental meetings? A girl in love is generally as much under foot as a cat.

Does she pass up other boys for you? If she breaks dates, watch out. She is only using you for a stand-by and a filler-in when no more glamorous youth appears on the scene. Does she make opportunities for you to be alone, or does she always want to be in a crowd? Does she come down with her hat on ready to step out when you call, or does she prefer spending a quiet evening at home listening to you talk? Does she try to save your money, or merely use you as a means to a good time? Is she unselfish toward you?

By these signs and tokens you can tell how you stand with a girl, but remember that as your age love is just a passing emotion—April showers and sunshine all in the same hour—and that what you feel for a girl or she feels for you is just a fleeting fancy and not to be taken seriously.

(3) I think it is foolish for schoolgirls and boys to go "steady" with any particular boy or girl. They make a mistake in tying themselves down so early. They should meet, avoid and have many contacts with many different types of boys and girls, for in that way only can they find out what they really want later on in a husband or wife. This business, they get homesick and they will find out. Like Kipling's hero, that "I learned about women from her" from every girl they meet.

In a word, they should look them over before they finally settle down to one. The boy and girl who are inseparable by some member of the opposite sex in their school days are just as silly as a man and woman would be who invested all the money they had in the first article they saw in a shop without even being certain that it was what they wanted and needed, or if there was not something far more attractive on another counter.

(4) You must be a nice boy and one that a girl's parents approve of if they are willing to pay for the tickets for you to take their daughter out. There is no harm in accepting such favors occasionally, but do not do it often. It will break down your morals and your self-respect.

It is very easy to become a male parasite in these days when parents are so anxious for their girls to have dates that they will pay for the tickets and the supper and the dance and furnish the automobile and say "steady" too, to the boys who take them out, but there is nothing more contemptible. Do not be one.

It will not be long now until you are out of school and able to earn money. Wait until then to show girls a good time. DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am a business woman of thirty-nine. A man who is seven years younger than I am and who was the husband of my sister, who died several years ago, wants to marry me. We were always very good friends and our grief over her loss has drawn us very close together. What do you think we should do under the circumstances? Marry, or give each other up? Is the fact that this man was my sister's husband a bar to our union? And what about the difference in age? A CONSTANT READER.

Answer—There is no reason in the world why you should not marry and be happy. In fact, I should say that your marriage stands a better chance for happiness than most because you and the man have each other so thoroughly that you should be able to judge of your compatibility and suitability to each other.

You have gone through the test of family intimacy, and, believe me, that is some test. Not many in-laws would like to marry each other.

Of course, in the past there has been a prejudice against a man marrying his deceased wife's sister, but we have happily outgrown that now. For common sense has shown us that in thousands of cases there was no other woman in the world who was so ideal a mate for a bereaved widower as his late wife's sister. She was more likely to have the characteristics that he had loved in his wife than any other woman, she would know his habits and his ways and could fit into his life almost without a ripple. There would be no need of adjusting himself to her as to a strange woman.

And when there were children no woman could take their mother's place so well as the aunt who already loved them as if they were her own. No danger of the stepmother conflict when a man married his wife's sister.

As for the difference in age, seven years mean nothing after a man is past thirty, and especially after he has gone through the schooling grief of widowhood.

A difference in age only matters when it is very great, say twenty or thirty years or more, or when the man is very young. A woman of twenty-seven for instance, should hesitate about marrying a boy of twenty because to twenty, twenty-seven would seem age, and because the boy of twenty would be immature, with unformed tastes. But when a man is in his thirties he has come to himself and knows what he wants in a wife, and the fact that she is seven years older than he is negligible. DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am very much in love with a man and anxious to marry him, but he has no work and makes no effort to get any, so we must wait. His parents are poor, but they are glad to support him. They can give him very little spending money, but he is quite contented. He says he adores me and he is good and kind and a wonderful companion and he wants to marry me, but he does not try to find work. I was so angry at his lack of energy that I almost eloped with another man and when he heard about it he grew furious and said I was in honor bound to marry him. I love him so, but am I being a fool to wait until he gets ready to marry me? ANNE.

Answer—Your Weary Willy certainly seems a poor prospect and a doubtful one as a husband. Evidently he loves his case better than he loves you, or else he would hustle out and get a job. For, in spite of all the talk about unemployment, it seems that the men who are bound and determined to have work find it.

The real and final test of love, the one that is strong enough to draw money out of the bank, is not the vows of devotion that a man swears to a woman, nor even his being a pleasant and gallant companion. It is his willingness to work for her, his willingness to take the burden of her support on his shoulders, his willingness to toil at even an unpleasant task so that she may take life easy. And unless a man gives that proof of devotion, his love talk is mere conversation and means nothing. DOROTHY DIX.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars tell us, but do not compel"

FEBRUARY 7, 1935

Adverse planetary aspects are active today, according to astrology. The early hours appear less favorable than the latter part of the day.

Under this fiery theme in authority may be inclined to criticism and lack of cooperation that may cause resentment and ill-will as well as to heads of government and those who are subject to their rule.

Continued in legislative bodies and especially in Congress is forecast. Struggles may continue to the extent of threatening consistent state of international relations.

Local matters are viewed from liberty to freedom to move business and then back to something like conservatism.

This time, the government will encourage arbitration.

Girls today should concentrate upon study or work, as it is a forbidding day for romance or popularity. Social affairs may be most disastrous.

There is a promising sign for women who seek employment, and it is that the Government, nurses and domestic workers will work within the domestic circle.

Many now in affliction of throat may have recovery, and the government of Washington may also come to a favorable turn.

Persons whose birthday is in the latter part of a year of October that must be given special attention, and their careers will be most disastrous.

Children born on this day probably will be exceedingly obedient and tractable. But, of this age, many usually have such imagination.

John Brown, French revolution, was born on this day, 1820. Others who were celebrated in a history, French revolution, were born on this day, 1820. Others who were celebrated in a history, French revolution, were born on this day, 1820.

LOCAL DOCKS ARE ACTIVE

Damsterdyk in From England This Morning; Emma Alexander Due To-night

French and German Ships Will Arrive Here Saturday; Russia to Sail

Belonging to 250 tons of general cargo, including a large parcel of telegraph from England and a large consignment of citrus fruits and fresh vegetables from southern California, the Dutch motorliner Damsterdyk reached the Ogden Point pier this morning at 7.30 o'clock. She was inbound from Rotterdam and London, via the Panama Canal and California ports.

Capt. A. Filippo was on the bridge of the ship. He reported an average winter passage out from the British Isles. Most of the passengers from England disembarked in the West Indies, at Panama and at California ports. There were only three aboard for Vancouver when the liner arrived here.

Before proceeding to Vancouver at 8 o'clock this afternoon the Damsterdyk loaded a parcel of fish from the cold storage plant for the London market.

King Brothers, local shipping agents, expect the German freighter Steinfurt here on Saturday morning to load 1,000,000 feet of Vancouver lumber for the United Kingdom.

The St. Neptunian left Ogden Point at midnight and proceeded to Port Alberni to finish loading for the British Isles. She took 1,100,000 feet of lumber at this port.

The St. Neptunian is still at Ogden Point. She will commence loading in a day or two.

With twenty passengers and twenty tons of general cargo, the St. Emma Alexander will arrive from Vancouver at 8 o'clock this evening at 6.45 o'clock from San Diego, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Saturday evening will see the sailing for the Orient of the liner Empress of Russia. She will arrive from Vancouver at 8 o'clock and will put to sea at 8.30 o'clock.

Bound for Victoria and Vancouver, the flagship Empress of Japan sailed from Yokohama on Tuesday and is scheduled to arrive here Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. The ship was docked at the Pacific, being due there next Monday. The Japan was docked at the Pacific for annual overhaul this voyage.

To pick up several passengers and load some fish and general cargo, the French liner Wyoming is expected here Saturday morning. She will come here from Vancouver and after a few days will put to sea for San Francisco, her first port of call on the five-week voyage to France.

WILEY POST TESTS PLANE

Aviator Hopes to Take Off Next Week in Winnie May on Sub-stratosphere Flight

Los Angeles, Feb. 7.—Wiley Post's famous airplane, the Winnie May, dropped her landing gear during a test with the plane suspended in the hangar yesterday and, paradoxically as it may sound, Post said the ship thus proved her readiness for a transcontinental flight through the sub-stratosphere.

For engineers have purposely arranged the landing gear so that it can be disengaged once Post gets in the air.

He said its absence will reduce wind resistance and weight, and he hopes to sail fifty miles an hour to the Winnie May's top speed.

A metal skid, on which the aviator will slide to a stop, is underneath the plane.

Post said he hoped to make a getaway some time next week. He will attempt to maintain an altitude between 50,000 and 60,000 feet on the cross-country hop, and hopes to land on the Atlantic coast several hours faster than the fastest time made so far.

SS. CRUISER REFLOATED

Vancouver, Feb. 7.—The St. Cruiser of the Pacific Navigation Company, which was aground at beach of the day in a heavy fog near Swish Beach, was refloated in the evening and proceeded under her own power to her dock near the Canadian National pier. She was inbound from coastal points when she struck.

A Pacific Salvage vessel took off the cruiser's passengers shortly after the grounding, which occurred on the shore of Stanley Park at the entrance to Vancouver Harbor.

The vessel will be inspected for possible damage, but it is not expected she received more than a few scraped plates. The refloating was accomplished without incident, at high tide.

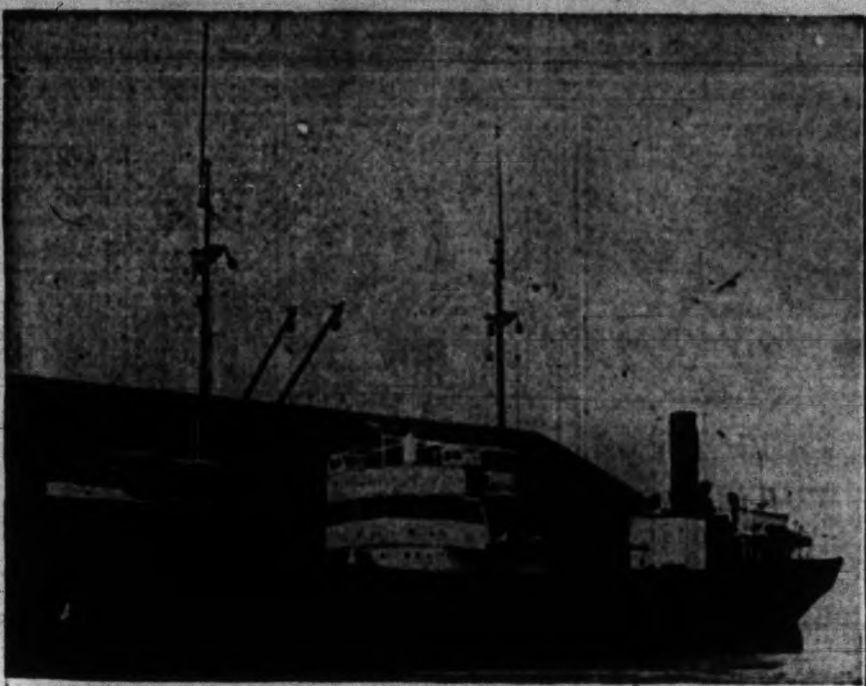

Seafarers' Union Will Meet Friday

A mass meeting of seamen will be held by the Victoria branch of the Seafarers' Industrial Union of Canada on Friday evening at 7.30 o'clock in the Hamley Building at the corner of Bechtel and Government Streets.

This meeting will hear a report of the first union convention, held in Vancouver on February 3, when a labor code for seafarers, in reference to wages, working conditions and hours was drawn up.

All ratings are invited whether union members or not. The election of the permanent executive of the Victoria branch will take place at this meeting.

FLOATED AFTER BEING ASHORE TWENTY DAYS

Antigonish, N.S., Feb. 7.—Ground on the jagged ledge of Grady's Point, Antigonish County, for twenty days, the motorship HURRY ON was refloated yesterday by the Saint John tugboat Robert S. Cann. The HURRY ON was formerly on the Pacific Coast and last year was tied up for some months at Victoria, B.C.
